The Smith County Genealogical Society was formed in May of 1999. The activities of the society include the study of genealogy in Smith County, Mississippi, and surrounding areas, the further education of those persons interested in the field of genealogy, the conduct of scholarly genealogical research, and the preservation of the records of past and present life in this area.

The Society meets the second Saturday of each month in the Raleigh Library/City Hall Conference Room at 10:00 a.m.

Smith County lost most of their early records due to three courthouse fires, the last being in 1911. Birth, death, and marriage records begin with December 1912.

The following publications are available from the Society and may be purchased locally at the Raleigh Library or may be mail ordered at the Society address above.
